The draft amendments were first published in the Mysore Gazette dated 9th Dec 1954. There were no objections. The Corporation by a resolution passed on 15th April 1955 approved the draft without any modification, substituting "400" for "200" subsequently at the instance of Govt based on the views of D.P.S. the municipal Corporation have altered it even while it was at the draft stage substituting "800" for 200. It appears that the draft as revised may have to be published again under S 371 and the procedure laid down followed before sanction of Govt is sought by the Corporation.

Avadi Resolution

The common man in the country was beset with many probems and doubts To improve his lot and make his life happier seemed to be the concern of all their national leaders They had felt as was evidenced by the famous Avadi resolution of the Indian National Congress that the Socialistic pattern of Society was best suited to meet the hope and aspirations of the common man in India That was a policy decision made by those who were fully aware of the needs of the common man The Second Plan was formulated keeping that ideal before and aimed at the full exploitation of all resources in the country for the material progress of the nation as a whole Though capital resources were small their man power was considerably large There were other resources available in the country which had to be properly assessed and exploited That called for a careful planning

Taking those factors into consideration the framers of the Second Five Year Plan drew up a balanced and integrated Plan in actual physical terms Under the Second Plan it was proposed to develop heavy and basic industries to exploit the available mineral and other resources and also expand and nlarge consumer goods production It was also hoped that most of the Second Plan would employ to nearly the

CONFUSED THINKING

Since the passing of the Socialistic Pattern of Society resolution at the Avadi Congress people at large were enthusiastic enough to welcome the objective of the Congress which is the ruling party But this enthusiasm has been short lived for a clearer picture of how the objective is to be reached is not coming forth from the leadership that was responsible for the resolution

The leadership itself seems to be confused—probably excepting Prime Minister Nehru—for they have never understood what Gandhism stands for and how the present objective is only an extension of Gandhism

This confusion in the ideological front as also in the economic front only a reflection of how the leadership during

gress Ministry under the then Provincial Autonomy scheme when several ameliorative measures were brought in in consonance with the congress principles, there was a spate of discussion on the question of violence vs Non violence

It was at that time Sri C Rajagopalachari who was the then Chief Minister of Madras explained that the Congress wedded to Gandhism having taken power must use minimum force necessary to ensure a non violent society at a later stage This interpretation was accepted by the author of the trusteeship theory and the criticism ended at that

Those were the pre independence days Now it is over seven years we have become free We were not clearer in our objective It was only in the Avadi session of the Congress that a clear cut objective was put before the nation

The objective resolution only states Socialistic Pattern of society and not a socialist so

Vital Role Of Oil In The "Middle East Question"

By W N Ewer

Diplomatic Correspondent of the Daily Herald London

In one form or another there has been an Eastern question ever since 1791 when the Russian capture of Ochkov from the Turks nearly started a European war; and since a few years later Napoleon sailed on the expedition that was to end disastrously in Abukir Bay But what it is now the fashion to call Middle Eastern question have today taken on an entirely new form

The Importance

That is not only because the old Ottoman Empire has given place to a group of independent countries or because one of them is the State of Israel The Middle East is now of importance to the whole non Communist world because it is the richest oil bearing area anywhere and because oil and oil products are a vital factor in the economies of every country

The development of the Middle Eastern oil resources in the past two decades has provided the countries of Western Europe and of South Asia with fuel essential to their economic development while at the same time it has given the Middle Eastern lands themselves wealth which they have never known before crude oil Of this nearly 90 per cent came from the Middle East

The countries of South Asia (outside the oil areas) of Africa and Australia imported 40 000 000 tons of Middle Eastern oil last year And their demands are growing steadily Some experts expect that in another 20 years they will want 150 000 000 tons

Even the United States despite its own resources and its nearness to the Venuzuelan and Caribbean oilfields imported 15 000 000 tons of Middle Eastern oil last year That figure too is expected to increase year by year

Essential Factor

So for all these countries their supplies of Middle Eastern oil are essential factor in their economic life and development Conversely they are markets for that oil and the source of the revenues which the oil producing areas derive from its sale The revenues are an essential fator in the economies of these countries

I hold no brief for the oil companies I find plenty to criticize in their operations But that is beside the main point The companies are only one factor in the complex whole

The real point is the interdependence of the oil producing and oil consuming countries Any breakdown in the [illegible] mechanism of tually the whole non Communist world

There is the further consideration that though the companies may be only one factor in the whole complex they are as things stand an essential factor

A Partnership

They provide the capital technical resources technical skill and marketing organization that make possible the extraction refining and sales without which there would be no oil products for a large portion of the world and no oil revenues for the Middle Eastern countries There has grown up a partnership between them and the peoples of the oil rich areas And the experience of Iran suggests that there is no substitute for this partnership

These are the economic facts which lie at the root of all thinking and all policy concerning the Middle Eastern question It is no longer as it was in the 19th century a question of power politics It is a question of indispensable supplies of oil for all the non Communist world (the Communist world is in this respect self contained and should be disinterested) and it is a question of equally indispensable revenues for the oil bearing countries

The two interests are identical or rather complementary Above all they both require the maintenance of [illegible] security in the

Th confu on n the ideological f ont as al o in the econom c front is [illegible] the struggle d ys h ve fa led to understand and assimilate Gandhism ready to implement it when it comes to power

This lack of under standing of Gandhism natu ally leads many in the leadership feel that the new objective is an anti thesis of Gandhism and nearer to Marxism of the 19th century though they were a party to this objective resolu tion without a murmer

What is Gandhism and the trust eship theory which he was expound ing throughout his l fe time? In simple terms Gandhij by insisting on trusteeship in the strict est sense of the term wanted equitable distri bution of wealth in the larger interests of huma nity The process by which the trusteeship could be implemented he thought could be by persuasion by strict observance of his two fundamentals Truth and Non violence

But if one may recall the year 1937 38 when there was the first Con to e tn nat on

The object ve e olu t on only states Soc a [illegible] nd no a [illegible] ciety as Marx visuali sed In this context it is also worth remember ing Prime Minister Nehru s oft repeated pronouncements that the 19th century Marxism cannot fit it with modern concept of social current and our country need not necessarily undergo the blood bath that engulfed the countries that have taken the Marxism way And he is also clear when he (Sri Nehru) says that Marxism is outmod- ed and outdated in the present context

But unfortunately the word socialism seems to be the cause of all the con fusi n for it is a ter- minology used also by M rx But let us be satisfied with the hon est implementation of the contents of the reso lution and if we are suspitious of the termi nology we shall join those who uphold the national pride and call it Sarvodaya Samaj in Indian style

Let us not feel that by agreeing to this ob jective resolution we are We t n [illegible] South A a wh fu l e en t al to the r onom c d e lopm nt wi le at the ame [illegible] h g n l M ddl L e n l nd hem lve w alth wi h they l ve never known before

There is a tendency adroitly fostered by interested prop ganda to see the whole s tu ation in terms of a "monopo l st exploitat on of M ddl East rn people o of a m l dramat c w r between rival o l companies But that is to obscure realities

Even for contri s whose nationals have a direct inte re t in the pro uct on and ale of o l and oil products the prof ts derived from it are far le impo tant than the supplies themselves Their m in interest is in the continuat on and develop ment of tho e suppl es Be side that the shareholders dividends are a trifling mat te

Th e figures speak for th ms lves

In 1955 the s x main West European refin ng countries (B lg um Brit n the Fede ral Republ c of Germ ny Fr nce Italy and the Ne therlands) impo ted for their own use and for re export bout 93 000 000 tons of [illegible] only one t to n the comp lex whol

Quality Control In Industries

Vital For Our Developing Factories In Second Plan

Bangalore May 14

The next five years will be industrial era for India Unless we apply the statistical control measures at every stage of production it will not be possible for us to make a great progress I hope the quality Control Association will give more and more better and better training in Statistical Quality Control to our youngmen in charge of industries

This observation was made by Sri A G Ramachandra Rao Minister for Law and Education while addressing a function on Saturday evening The occasion was the distribution of certificates to the Trainees in Statistical Quality Control organised by the Quality Control Association Bangalore

The day Course in statistical quality control measures concluded on Saturday More than 20 candidates from various industrial concerns in Mysore State and Madras States attended the course

Welcome Speech

Welcoming by Mr. S

A G R s Speech

Sri A G Ramachandra Rao Minister congratulated the Association on its useful and successful work Quality Control was existed ever since industry whether big or small was started in the country Hitherto it was adopted as an art and it had now become a science It was the desire of many industrialist to produce such goods that would bring in more profits for him

To achieve that object he was eager in producing articles to satisfy his customers The aim of Statistical Quality Control measures was to co ordinate those two objects namely satisfying the consumer and bringing more profits to the producer The trainees have now learnt the fundamentals of the science nd they have to apply it at every stage of production to achieve the twin object Quality Control in goods would result in bigger markets for the product and that in turn benefit not only the industry concerned but the country as well Hence the application of Statistical Quality Control would result in benefits to both the producers and consumers

Concluding the Minister pointed out that the next five years would be an Industrial era in the country and they were going to spent a huge amount for industrial development and expansion They had to apply the quality control methods at every stage of production for the success of industries Organisations like the Quality Control Association in Bangalore had to play a vital part in training youngmen in the technique and help the speedy development of industries

Prof Ekambaram proposed a vote of thanks

Welcome Speech

Welcoming the Minister Sri Jagdeesh Prasad Managing Director of the Indian Telephone Industries and President of the Association said that the course had benefitted many youngmen to some extent It was not possible to impart everything within a short period There was a general feeling that most of the industries in the country do not maintain the required quality in products There were many reasons for it It was not the intention of the producers to neglect that aspect in production The processes involved was so costly that many Industries found it impossible to have such quality control measures It was now possible to adopt certain latest methods and technique to maintain quality and it was the intention of the Association to help the industries in that regard

Sri Sriyag bhu hana Organiser of the courses presented a short Report and said that the Association had so far conducted four such courses and imparted regular Statistical Quality Control training for over 132 technicians from various industries in South India

Sri D J Desmond Statistical Quality Control expert from the United Kingdom who is now in India under the Colombo Plan to assist industrial establishments in the country in Quality Control Work addressed the meeting explaining in detail the technique of quality control and how far it could be adopted with success in all industrial concerns in India He gave

Agricultural Seminar

CHANNIAH WANTS NO QUICK ACTION ON LAND CEILING

Bangalore May 14

Sri S Channiah President MPCC addressing the delegates session of the five day agricultural seminar at Hebbal stated that there was no need to hustle through the legislation on ceilings on land holdings and pointed out the great amount of confusion that had been created as a result of constant changes in the pattern of legislations on land holdings

Sri Channiah pointed out the great significance attached to the agricultural seminar which could act as an eye opener not only to the State but also to the farmers whose problems were bewildering in their variety and complexity He strongly pleaded for a radical change in the outlook of the people which would be in conformity with the changes in the democratic set up in the country He expressed the hope that the seminar would arrive at useful decisions and tangible results which would stand the riots in good stead and helpful to the State

Sri Mariappa MLA pleaded for a simplification of the land legislation and regretted the constant changes in the sphere of legislation with regard to land holdings He visualised the emergence of a large public sector with the nationalisation of land after ten to fifteen years and pleaded for integration of the activities of riots and of the agricultural department at all levels

U K India Air Agreement Reviewed

New Delhi May 12

The delegations of the Governments of the United Kingdom and India with representatives of their airline have reviewed in London the working of the U K India air services agreement which was negotiated in New Delhi and signed in December 1955

Full and frank discussions have continued since April 16 and satisfactory agreements subject to confirmation by both sides have been reached on a wide range of questions affecting the operation of services by the respective airlines The understandings now reached should enable the two airlines to plan with confidence the development of their services for the next few years UPI
